

Cool House in Coolhurst, N8

This stunning home is an eclectic mix of styles and moods which can surely fit any brief. Alexander Martin Architects added a three-storey extension to a Victorian house in north London, featuring brick walls and a big window facing out to the garden. The property boasts a large contemporary kitchen and open plan living area, a decadent media room of rich jewel colours, a modern library overlooking the garden, a small study and a more traditional drawing room. The master bedroom is connected by a floating staircase to a spectacular bathroom and dressing room of carrera marble and limed oak. The other three bedrooms enjoy comfortable deep-pile carpets and delightful textured wallpapers.. Of particular note are the gorgeous guest bathrooms. Clients have a dedicated large private room for clothes racks / ironing / storage.
