

Corby Hall and Chapel - Lincolnshire

Corby Hall has 30 rooms including 16 bedrooms. It contains a great hall with a large fireplace and balcony from the upper part of the house, a grand staircase, a very light and elegant drawing room and a impressive dining room. The house is a grade II house with a striking grey stone façade and elegant mullioned windows. Construction began in 1380 with the building retaining most of its architecture from 1510. The extensive gardens contain a walled garden, a gorgeous lake and old-style bridge, a vast number of stables and paddocks and a multitude of trees. Whilst some of the inside remains simple and timeless drawing on the time period it was built; The grand hall has wood floors. The estate has its own beautiful private chapel, a walled garden and a lovely lake . It is surrounded by the unchanged village of Irnham and has many quaint cottages on the estate which are also possible for use for filming. Its 20 mins from Grantham which is a 1h 45 min train from Waterloo.
