

Tew Park House

Nestled in the serene Oxfordshire countryside lies a majestic 17th-century manor house, a grade II listed property brimming with character. This private, historic gem, currently derelict, offers a canvas for boundless imagination and potential. Situated merely a 5-minute drive from the chic Soho Farmhouse and an accessible 1 hour and 20 minutes from the bustling heart of London, it presents an exceptional opportunity for film and photo shoots. While lackin modern conveniences, such as heating, water, and electricity, its unique appeal lies in its untouched grandeur—a perfect setting for various types of productions seeking a truly authentic and atmospheric backdrop. This property promises to be a visionary's dream, building upon its historical splendor.

© 2020 Carol Hayes Management. In Essex, manor of the English countryside lies a majestic 17th-century manor house, a grade II listed property brimming with character. This private, historic gem, currently

Carol Hayes Management

